Team Analysis Manager is a tool created by W.consulting that does two things:-

- ▶ It summarises an individual's long personality profile into a succinct one-page document highlighting the key points of an individual. This gives you in the moment access to that person's attributes and what to be aware of before key meetings or critical conversations.
- ▶ It Analyses the mix of personalities within a team and how that group of personalities will perform together. This powerful data analysis enables teams to see where potential issues could be and recommends how to improve as a team.

The net result is improved relationships, better team functionality, and improved business results.

Instead of waiting and seeing how a team will function, the system tells you how it will function by highlighting strengths and weaknesses, as well as identifying potential blocks and recommending potential conflict resolutions.

The system views each person's personality profile that is within a specific team, it then analyses how that mix of personalities will perform together under notable key areas like:

Strengths

Weaknesses

Value to Team

Potential Blindspots

Management Style

Communication

Ideal Environment

Motivating
